

NOTHING TO INSTALL

Four prompts for work you already have

Each one is attached to a moment in an ordinary week. Attach the file and go.

- Swipe. Six slides.

THE MEETING THAT JUST ENDED

Notes into decisions

- ✓ Turn these notes into decisions, owners and dates. Flag anything discussed and never resolved
- ✓ Attach the transcript or your own notes
- ✓ The flag is the point. Projects die on the decision everyone assumed somebody else had made

MONTH END

Two lists that should match

- ✓ Here are both exports. Tell me what is in one and not the other
- ✓ This is the job nobody thinks to give it
- ✓ It is also the one that saves an afternoon rather than four minutes

BEFORE A DIFFICULT CALL

What they will object to

- ✓ Here is the proposal. What will this client push back on, and what is my answer
- ✓ It will get about half of them
- ✓ The half it gets are usually the ones you had not thought about

THE DOCUMENT YOU SEND OFTEN

What is unclear on a first read

- ✓ Here is our standard scope. What would a reader find unclear on a first read
- ✓ Not improve this. Improve this makes it longer
- ✓ You get back the two paragraphs everyone has quietly misread for two years

Pick one. Try it this week.

The prompts that stick are the ones tried on real work rather than saved for later. All 25, with what to attach to each and what good output looks like:
